Uncle Sam Plans Everything In Case It Will Be Necessary To Throw Troops Into Cuba To Preserve Peace.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Boston, Mass., Sept. 15.—That Uncle Sam is making ready for any emergency is evidenced by the fact that, aside from ordering Secretary Taft to proceed to Havana to personally investigate the Cuban troubles and this morning six score of marines left Boston for Norfolk, Virginia, where they will be assigned for duty on board vessels designed for Cuba. This is taken to mean that every precaution that is necessary will be taken to have an available force ready to be thrown into Cuba should it be thought advisable.

GENERAL CORBIN IS NOW IN RETIREMENT

Only Adjutant in Army to Attain Lieutenant Generalship—No West Point Graduate.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 15.—Lieutenant General Henry C. Corbin, who has the distinction of being the only Adjutant-General of the United States Army to reach the high grade of Lieutenant-General by operation of the age limit. General Corbin leaves the active service after a long and distinguished career. Like General Miles he is not a graduate of West Point. He was born in Ohio and entered the army as a volunteer. After the civil war he passed a satisfactory examination and was accepted as an officer in the regular army. From the administration of Lincoln to that of Roosevelt he has always been very near the person of the president. He was the adjutant at the inauguration of Garfield, Cleveland, Harrison and McKinley. In the war with Spain much of the work of organizing the volunteer army fell upon the shoulders of General Corbin, and he met the duties and responsibilities with an executive ability that commanded admiration and praise. It is not too much to say that he had more to do with the detailed work of molding the army into form than any other officer of the government, and he was one of the most influential advisers of President McKinley.

The retirement of General Corbin results in the promotion of Major-General Arthur MacArthur, one of the most popular officers in the army, to the grade of lieutenant-general. The vacancy in the list of major-generals is filled by the promotion of Brigadier-General Jesse M. Lee, Major-General

The bores were made simultaneously from the New Jersey and Manhattan sides of the river and so accurate were the plans and measurements of the engineers that the two tunnels will meet under the middle of the river and join as accurately as the sliding of one tube into another. When the two tubes have been brought together a jolification will be held, to be participated in by the contractors and the officials of the road. It is expected that President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania, Mayor McClellan and other notables will ride on the first car that goes under the river.

The affair is under the joint charge of the Miller brothers, owners of the ranch, and the Ponca Indians and is in celebration of the opening of the Cherokee Strip, which occurred sixteen years ago tomorrow. Weeks ago the Poncas sent invitations for the affair to every tribe of Indians in the northwest, as well as those in Oklahoma. Several thousand responded, making the gathering one of the largest ever held in this part of the country. Though the celebration at the ranch is to last only two days it is expected that the Indians will spend a full week in feasting, dancing, and other forms of amusement.

SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS MEET

United States, Canada, Mexico And Even Hawaii Represented At Session At Toronto.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 15.—Odd Fellows from all parts of Canada, the United States and Mexico, with a delegation from Hawaii, gathered in Toronto today for the eighty-second annual session of the sovereign grand lodge, which will be held here during the coming week. It is estimated that by Monday more than 30,000 members of the fraternity will be in the city. Auxiliary organizations will meet during the week. These include the Rebekah Assembly and the Patriarchs Militant.

Today there was a meeting of the Grand Council, Patriarchs Militant, at King Edward hotel, and the officers and members of the sovereign grand lodge and their ladies were tendered a civic reception and luncheon at St. Catharines, to which place there was an excursion.

Tomorrow the Odd Fellows will attend divine service at St. James' Cathedral. On Monday there will be a great deal going on. In the morning the visitors will be given a public welcome in the legislative chamber of the Parliament building, when there will be addresses by the Hon. William Mortimer Clark, lieutenant governor of the province of Ontario, and others. Among the attractions in the afternoon will be the prize drill at Exhibition park and the reception by the Rebekahs of Ontario to their sisters and lady visitors.

On Tuesday, in addition to the meeting of the grand lodge and the prize drills, there will be the conferring of the decoration of chivalry at Exhibition park; the exercises being conducted by Colonel W. S. Johnston, department commander of Ontario. On Wednesday there will be exercises at the city hall, and on Thursday, a continuation of the exercises as on the days before, the Rebekahs and their guests will be given an illuminated car ride about the city. The feature of Friday's program will be the reception tendered the officers and members of the sovereign grand lodge by the mayors of the city and the council of the city of Toronto.

Seattle is sending a large delegation in an effort to secure next year's meeting of the sovereign grand lodge for that city. Bids are expected also from several other cities and a lively contest is likely.

ALL IS HARMONY AMONG WISCONSIN REPUBLICANS

McGovern Will Follow In La Follette's Footsteps Away From Bolting-Platform Convention To Be Hot.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 15.—There will be no bolts in Wisconsin this fall, not even in the district attorneyship in Milwaukee, if the close advisors of Senator La Follette are able to have their way. For a time it appeared as though the junior senator would resent the overwhelming defeat of his gubernatorial candidate, Speaker Lenroot, by refusing to take part in the campaign. It was also strongly probable that District Attorney F. E. McGovern of Milwaukee, who was defeated by F. X. Boden for renomination by the republicans, would decide to run independently.

Making Peace.

The situation, however, has changed. Emissaries of the senator have made peace of peace to Governor Davidson. It is looking out that Senator La Follette looks upon the recent primaries as a distinct advance in the program of reform legislation; notwithstanding the defeat of Lenroot, and will be actively in the campaign in favor of the election of the entire republican ticket. La Follette leaders are also advising against the desire of Mr. McGovern to bolt in Milwaukee, and all over the situation of Wisconsin republican politics is written Harmony.

Interest Centers.

Interest centers in the convention to be held in Madison ten days hence, composed of the republican nominees for state and legislative offices and also the hold-over republican senators, for the purpose of making the Wisconsin republican platform. The Davidson-Connor people are plain spoken in their determination that the platform will be a positive one in line with the speeches of Governor Davidson in favor of continuing the reform movement and of adding other reforms, but they are watching keenly to prevent Senator La Follette from dictating the language of the platform or placing in it purely local or La Follette plans. It is assumed that the platform meeting will be one of a vigorous debate.

Hold Conference.

Senator La Follette, L. L. Lenroot, Private Secretary Hannan and others of that political clique are holding a conference today at the Maple Bluff home of the senator. It is expected that as a result definite plans of action will be determined upon. Senator La Follette leaves shortly to "make it hot" for Senator Dryden in New Jersey, but will return about October 20, and perhaps stump the state for the republican ticket. It is known that he will not attempt to defeat the ticket, as there are too many of his factional leaders upon it, but the degree of enthusiasm that he will manifest for a ticket which records his rebuke as the republican boss of Wisconsin is a matter of conjecture.

NEW SOLOGICAL FORECAST OF THE WEEK TO ENSUE

Football Season Will Be Inaugurated In East And West Next Saturday—Political Dope.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 15.—Hearings will be begun in New York Monday by the commission of rules and regulations of the pure food law in order that the food manufacturers of the country may have an opportunity to make suggestions concerning regulations for the enforcement of the new pure food law.

Republicans of New Hampshire will meet in convention Tuesday to name a state ticket. More than ordinary interest centers in the event because of the fight of Winston Churchill, novelist, for the gubernatorial nomination. The great issue of the fight is the question of corporation domination in politics.

The foggy condition of the political atmosphere in New York is likely to be considerably clarified by the primaries on Tuesday. The factional disputes in both the republican and democratic parties will make the primaries the hardest fought in years.

The republican factions in Connecticut will fight it out for control at the state convention to be held Wednesday.

The football season of 1906 will be ushered in Saturday with several games in the east and west. As a rule the games will be in the nature of practice skirmishes in which the larger colleges will line up against some of the smaller schools as a first step in the work of getting into proper trim for the big games to be played later in the season.

Three unusually large conventions are to be held in Canada during the week. The most important of these is the annual communication of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, which will attract members of the fraternity to Toronto from many parts of the world. The Canadian Association of Manufacturers will meet in Winnipeg Monday, and the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress will begin its sessions the same day in Victoria, B. C.

Rock County Takes

Prizes in Horses

Alexander Galbraith & Sons and Mc-
Lay Brothers Capture Bulk of Draft Horse Awards.

Janesville's two noted importing and breeding horse firms, Alexander Galbraith & Sons and McLay Bros., captured the bulk of premiums in the exhibits of heavy horses at the Wisconsin State Fair. McLay Brothers took five firsts and two seconds for Clydesdale horses owned and bred in Wisconsin and numerous other prizes in different classes.

Alex. Galbraith & Sons were remarkably successful in their exhibit.
Notwithstanding the fact that several of their horses were partially blind owing to the hot weather and recent newly imported the local importers won a prize on nearly every animal exhibited. The Jackney Stallion
Fandango, a won the championship over all coach breeds—American and European. Their English Shire stallion, Earl King was greatly admired and won championship over all the Shires. While their newly imported
2-year-old colt Baron Clifton, won championship over all the Clydesdale stallions on the ground. Surely this is a great record. Messrs. Galbraith are making an exhibit simultaneously at Manitowoc as well as at Milwaukee.
The following is the list of

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

"There are people who live near to science and never know it; in the midst of culture and never have it; close to religion and never imbibe it; by the side of nature and still are strangers to her beauties. They are incapable of the concentration necessary to grasp a theme and become enthusiastic over it, and thus they live by the side of happiness and never taste it."

Elbert Hubbard thus tersely expresses a great truth which applies to a large class of people who live in the world and yet are not of it. The tendency of the age is to live with the least possible effort and the trend of ambition is to get out of life a good deal more than the investment. The pace is so rapid and the ambition so absorbing that the common things which contribute to everyday comfort and happiness, when appreciated, are ignored or entirely overlooked.

The discoveries of science during the past decade are so marvelous that they are difficult to grasp. Many of these discoveries have been utilized by the masses without thought of appreciation.

Labor-saving devices of every description are accepted as a matter of course and the only comment offered is, "Why didn't somebody think of it before?"

A steam thrasher in operation the other day attracted attention for the old-fashioned straw stack at the rear of the machine was lacking. Investigation revealed a little attachment that baled the straw as fast as delivered, and the by-product was ready for immediate shipment.

"A wonderful invention," said the bystander. "Yes, but a simple thing," replied the farmer, "that any school-boy might have thought of years ago."

The farm was a good one and modern machinery scattered about indicated that the owner shared in the benefits of scientific invention and discovery, but he belonged to the class who "live near to science and never know it."

The manufacturer who keeps pace with the times finds it necessary to equip his factory with new and improved machinery at least every ten years, and his profits are largely invested in this channel. He pays the bills and wonders if invention will never cease.

When the old machinery goes out men go out with it, and a new adjustment of labor is necessary, for the modern machine is a labor-saver, and so the conflict goes on.

The public printing office at Washington has for years employed a force of 2000 men. The printing business has been largely revolutionized during the past few years and the setting of type by hand, like the blinding of grain by hand, is practically a thing of the past.

When the new machine came in which performed the work of half a dozen men automatically there was dire confusion among the men for the meant revolution of the most radical sort.

The pressure was so great that the government printing office failed to adopt the labor-saving machines until the commercial world had thoroughly tested them and demonstrated the fact that science had been a blessing rather than a calamity to the trade.

The printers of the country are employed at better wages today than ever before and the tramp and unreliable element have been largely eliminated from the profession. Uncle Sam finally fell into line and the government printing office is now modernly equipped.

This is practically a machine age, and many of the methods employed in the mechanical world have a tendency to make machines of men, but it is an age of science and science is a friend which every man can afford to cultivate.

The average community possesses more or less in the way of culture, and yet there are a few people who never imbibe it or profit by it. To their idea anything that smacks of cleanliness or courtesy is aristocratic. The "boiled shirt" and polished shoe are evidences of snobbery.

"Culture" means more than literary attainment. It means gentleness and thoughtfulness, as well as consideration for the rights and feelings of other people. It is a cultivated rather than an inherited virtue and marks the difference between the gentleman and the hoodlum.

When Barney Oldfield was in San Francisco last year he rode through the red flag portion of the city, where anarchy was rife. As he passed down the street there went up a shout "Kill the cuss," and his friends advised him to get out of the district. These people lived in the midst of culture, but ignored it.

The automobile, by the way, is more or less of a disturber, and class distinction and envy frequently comes to the surface. They are regarded as the vehicle of the rich and beyond the reach of the masses. This is a misfortune, which time and prices alone can regulate.

The last number of the Philistine relates the experiences of a man at Dodge City, Iowa, who thought he was cultured. He went into the dining room of the hotel, "and when the waiter girl pulled back his chair he took out his handkerchief, and dusted the seat. Then he pulled up his trousers daintily and sat down. Next he proceeded to polish his knife and fork with the napkin. The girl looked on amazed, and finally without even a smile she proceeded to place one arm around the neck of the fastidious man, then she wiped his mouth with a napkin and gave him a Hobson kiss you could have heard a block. It sounded like a steer's foot being pulled out of a damp buffalo wallow. The girl then took the gentleman's order, which was very light. He ate fast and got out quickly."

This is a brand of culture not worth cultivating.

In every community there are plenty of men who like to be known as brothers-in-law to the church. They do not hesitate to say that the church is a good thing and ought to be supported. "They are close to religion, but never imbibe it."

Then there is another class who enjoy the benefits of a better moral atmosphere, because of the influence of the church, and yet who never have a good word for it. The church will continue to exist, however, in spite of indifference or neglect.

Did you ever walk through the woods on a summer day with a man who had no use for trees except the shade they furnish, and who couldn't tell a robin from a bluejay? There are plenty of such people to whom the book of nature is a sealed book. Happiness should be the common lot of humanity, for there is so much to inspire it on every hand that it is within easy grasp, and yet there are a world of people who know but little about the joy of happiness. "They live by the side of it, but never taste it."

There are men and women in Janesville who are waiting till they get to heaven for a taste of happiness, too busy in this life to devote any time to joy and gladness, and possessed of the notion that the next life will be nothing but a perpetual holiday.

Perhaps it will, but a ray of sunshine and a note of gladness now and then will detract nothing from the prospect. "As we journey through life let us live by the way," is a sentiment which can be cultivated to advantage.

NOTHING TO FEAR

The fear and trembling noticeable on the part of a few weak-kneed republicans when the name of Bryan is mentioned as the democratic nominee for president in 1908 is amusing to say the least.

His late home-coming after a spectacular year abroad and the reception tendered him in New York is part of the grandstand play program carefully figured out before he went away.

Mr. Bryan has been constantly in the limelight for the past ten years. He made himself notorious by disrupting the democratic party in the convention of 1896, and has gained new notoriety this year by wiping out the old party and establishing a Bryan party in its place.

The noise and confusion resulting has led some people to believe that the American people are hypnotized by the Nebraska orator, and that the republican party has been lost in the shuffle.

What is Bryan today that he was not in 1896 and 1900? The same Bryan with a few reform frills added. The conservative element of the democratic party will not support him, and if he can command any republican strength it has yet to be discovered.

Bryan will doubtless be the nominee of his party, but he will poll less votes than in any previous campaign. The American people are not destitute of common sense and there is no occasion for fear or uneasiness.

The successor of President Roosevelt will be a republican, and while it is too early to name the man the party may be relied upon to select a candidate who will inspire confidence.

The office of president is an important office, and the man who fills it must represent more than the man. He must be an exponent of principles which have been tested, and he must come from the ranks of some party in whom the people have confidence. There is only one party of this kind in the United States today, and that is the republican party. Bryanism is not democracy. It is nothing but an experiment badly tinged with socialism and which would fall apart of its own weight if its founder were removed from the stage of action.

The reins of national government will never be transferred to this kind of a party.

clean place. It has a tent or auditorium in which there is a succession of entertainments under Christian or at least moral auspices. It is the respectable and instructive resort of thousands and hundreds of thousands of people who once spent their evenings and Sundays far less profitably.

All hail the Chautauqua! The Chronicle takes off its hat to it. All the more for that reason it deplores one of its tendencies and feels at liberty to criticize it. Faithful are the wounds of a friend.

This tendency is the morbid curiosity which leads it to invite to its lecture platform all the political and sociological freaks in the land. Of course, this is somewhat natural. The day has almost gone by when people listen to lectures for instruction. For the last forty years at least no lecturer has been able to attract an audience by his lecture. He must have become notorious in some way, and even then the lecture is a mere pretext for looking him over, like a prize hog at a fat stock show. This is the way of the world.

The only question is, whether the Chautauqua is not on a higher plane than the average populace. Judging by its genesis and its founders, the general impression is that it is something more than usually dignified and clean, if not Christian. The Chautauqua auditorium therefore is not a place where one would expect to hear unworthy sentiments expressed even by notorious characters.

The truth is, however, that the Chautauqua seems to be inordinately fond of people who are in the public eye whether they represent sense or nonsense, truth or error, virtue or vice. It seems to enjoy the low and insulting diatribes and threats of Pitchfork Tillman and the socialist heresies of Senator La Follette just as much as it would a lecture on astronomy, and much more.

The season has just closed and these freak lectures are now putting away their nonsense in camphor until next June. The question for Chautauqua managers is whether they shall ever be permitted to air them again on Chautauqua grounds.

The Chronicle sizes up the Chautauqua situation correctly. From a modest beginning the summer outdoor entertainment has developed with rapid stride until today it is recognized as the people's canvas theatre in all parts of the land.

It is free from the taint of a money-making scheme and the management is never accused of graft or embezzlement. The entertainments furnished are clear and wholesome and would be entirely unobjectionable but for the political features referred to by the Chronicle.

A Chautauqua audience is always an intelligent audience and the churches are largely represented. It is the kind of an audience that a reformer regards as a prolific field and men like Bryan and La Follette are always eager for Chautauqua engagements.

The doctrine of socialism, under the guise of government and municipal ownership, is an attractive doctrine to exploit and the average Chautauqua audience enjoys being told that corporate wealth is oppressive and that public utilities belong to the people and should be owned and operated by them.

There is no platform, aside from the Chautauqua platform, where La Follette could gain a hearing in denouncing his colleagues in the senate. In this respect it compares with a certain class of magazines which are recognized today as muck-rake organs, and public sentiment, sooner or later, will set the seal of disapproval.

The man who founded the Chautauqua was a man of high ideals and if the movement is to maintain the standard care should be exercised in keeping it free from all objectionable features and especially those that masquerade under the high-sounding title "reform."

The Cannon boom for President in 1908 is fully fledged and the Illinois veteran is likely to be the coming man from the west. "Uncle Joe" is a long-headed statesman and a loyal representative of the party. Should he become the nominee of the next national republican convention the campaign will be full of enthusiasm.

Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal is eating crow just now for a steady diet. Two years ago he denounced Bryan in most bitter terms and today he is attempting to endorse him.

The State Board of Control will miss the genial smile of Gustave Kustermann and the board will have to find another German singer to entertain the deaf at Delavan.

The teachers in the public schools of Marion, Ohio, are up in arms because the president of the board advised them to wear bloomers.

The President's new spelling book of 300 words is being sent out to the press of the country. It is small and harmless.

The corn crop was never more promising. It is well out of the way of the frost and the yield will be large.

The present price of tobacco indicates that the acreage will be largely increased another year.

How does the game warden pay-roll compare with two years ago.

PRESS COMMENT.

No Duty on Dried Lizards.

Exchange: Amid the abyssal gloom which, to some people, surrounds the high tariff comes one ray of cheering light—the treasury department has decided that dried lizards come in free.

Well, They'd Feel at Home.

Chicago Record-Herald: "Home-coming week" has become one of the things that they regularly celebrate in some cities now. What a gathering of disreputable people there would be if Pittsburg ever inaugurated a festival of that kind.

Probably Out of Reach.

Superior Telegram: Great deposits of asphalt have been discovered in Oklahoma. The asphalt trust has doubtless already gotten possession of it all—therefore don't be glad too quickly.

One Smith Ashamed.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Not all the Smiths are proud of it. For instance there is the case of Mr. Ernest Bradford Smith, of Madison, who recently changed his name to Ernest Smith Bradford on the ground there are already too many Smiths.

It Will Be Time Wasted.

Eu Claire Leader: They are figuring on a hundred thousand majority for Davidson and Connor in November. Colonel Bryan and Governor Folk will have to work hard to overcome such odds as that, if they care to waste time entering Wisconsin at all.

A Pretty Slim Excuse.

Exchange: Complaint is made of a great scarcity of apple barrels this season. It is just possible that no harm would be done if the surplus apples were packed in boxes instead. But there always some excuse for keeping prices up artificially.

If Great—Advertise!

Milwaukee News: "Sherbie" certainly is a wise boy. He put a sign on his automobile so that the folks would know that he is the mayor of Milwaukee. What's the use of being a great man if the people do not know who you are when you ride past in your automobile?

WILL INSTALL TWO PIPE ORGANS HERE

Marshall-Bennett Men Arrive from Moline, Ill.—New Cargill Church Instrument Here.

Within two weeks two churches in the city will have pipe organs installed. Mr. Harris and Mr. Marshall, Jr., of the Marshall-Bennett Organ company of Moline, Ill., have arrived in the city and commenced the work. They will install the new $6,000 instrument, which arrived here yesterday afternoon, for the Cargill Memorial Methodist church, and will place the old Methodist organ in the English Lutheran church. The Methodist organ is being hauled from the railroad car to the church today and the work of putting it up will be commenced Monday and completed before a week from tomorrow.

INTERURBAN OR BUST, IS THE LATEST MOTTO

KICKERS AGAINST PROPOSED ROAD GET TO WORK.

TIME FOR ACTION TODAY

Would Stop Clough From Building the Proposed Road to Madison

Now.

Time for action on the interurban proposition has come. If Janesville is to have the road every citizen and business man interested must do their utmost before next Monday night or it will be defeated. Two aldermen are open in their opposition to it, others more covert and refuse to talk. One body of citizens, men who have no business interests at stake, have conspired to fight its placing tracks along its streets. Others, of the same class, object to carrying freight. If Janesville is to have the road something must be done and done quickly. Mr. Clough is nearly ready to begin building. If the council turn down his present application he may abandon the project altogether. The business men want the road as evidence of the following interviews:

Walter Rice, painter: "Pass the franchise."

William McVicar, plumber: "Give them what they want."

Charles Schaller, laundry: "I object to the freight clause as it stands."

Walter Helms, seeds: "Give us the interurban."

F. E. Green, plumber: "The interurban for me."

W. H. Graves, sewing machines: "I want the interurban."

John Myers, capitalist: "Pass the franchise."

M. T. Ricker, harness: "Put the stock yards in front of my shop but pass the franchise."

Harry Van Gilder: "I do not care."

J. L. Bostwick, dry goods: "Is a vital matter. To lose this opportunity will be to deprive the city of fifty years' growth."

C. S. Putnam, furniture: "We can't afford to miss this chance—wish five or six more interurbans wanted franchises."

George Sutherland, lawyer: "We want all the interurban railways we can get."

W. H. Greenman, dry goods: "At least nine-tenths of the business men want this line and want it bad."

David Watt, real estate: "The people who oppose this project will be found burning oil and railing against such innovations as gas and electric light."

H. J. Cunningham, insurance: "I won't say it but I think it—if the franchise don't go through the aldermen ought to be sandbagged."

Frank Kimball, furniture: "I am about as heavily interested on South Main street property as anybody. Let them have a double track if they want it and carry freight. Some of us business men are losing about $1,000 a year of Beloit trade diverted to Rockford for the sole reason that the present interurban cannot carry freight to and from Janesville."

Robert M. Bostwick, Jr.: "Dry Goods: 'The people should get together and insist upon the aldermen who represent them doing their duty and passing the franchise.'"

O. A. Oestreicher, lawyer: "Five years ago Madison was no larger than Janesville. Some of the progressive men got together and overruled the conservatives who didn't want any smoke in the air or noise on the streets. Madison now has 25,000. The moral is obvious."

Geo. D. Simpson, Dry Goods: "You bet I'm in favor of it. The road should be given the best of it."

A. E. Matheson, lawyer: "The council should grant as liberal freight carrying privileges as possible. Mr. Clough will undoubtedly be willing to make some concessions."

Alderman W. W. Watt, Newspaper Man: "Sure. There may be some changes to be made in the franchise, but we want the line."

Archibald Reid, Dry Goods: "Haven't looked into the matter, but am in favor of freight-carrying."

George Baumann, Grocer: "Sure; let her come. Don't keep a good thing like that from the town."

J. B. Coker, Moon: "Put her through."

W. Scofield, Market: "Let her come. Great benefit to town."

Ed Winslow, Grocer: "Certainly; let her come. You bet. The quicker the better."

P. H. Green, Feed: "I'll throw up both hands and say give all they want—two or four tracks."

E. G. Smith, Barber: "Certainly; as many tracks as they want."

John Hemple, Upholsterer: "What the majority want."

R. H. Pickering, Grocer: "Yes, we want it."

Frank Noguette, Barber: "We don't object."

W. W. Watts, Barber: "I want it."

Bert Van Houtter, Saloon: "Certainly; we want it."

Carl Brockhaus, Dyer: "The franchise should be granted with a little change in the clause regarding the keeping up of their right-of-way. I'm greatly in favor of it and would like a package freight."

C. Hermann, lodging house and saloon: "Wouldn't do Janesville any harm. The more electric and steam roads the better."

Charles J. Norton, cafe: "Sure, the interurban is wanted."

P. L. Myers, capitalist and Opera House: "A hundred interurbans if we can get them. The more the better. Look at Rockford and the benefits she derives from them."

H. Kronitz: "I'm in favor of it."

A. C. Munger, grocer: "Get it by all odds."

M. A. Jorsch, electrical wiring and supplies: "Sure. Fine thing for the city."

F. H. Francis, jeweler: "I want to see the interurban and though Milwaukee avenue is too narrow for the tracks I would rather see the street injured than have the interurban stopped."

Miss Kennedy, milliner: "We would like to see the interurban built."

W. B. Hough, barber: "You know it. We all want it."

F. C. Cook, jeweler: "For the interurban strong."

W. F. Carle, grocer: "Favor the road by all means."

L. B. Carle, capitalist: "Come by all means with certain restrictions as to freight."

Norman Carle, capitalist: "Favor the interurban with reasonable reference freight clause."

Geo. E. King, druggist: "Any alderman who votes against has not the interests of the city at heart."

J. P. Baker, druggist: "Pass franchise by all means."

John Sweeney, Hotel proprietor: "A good thing for the city."

John Rexford, banker: "I should be sorry to see the council turn it down. It would help the town. Certain changes might be made, but not radical ones."

W. W. Nash, grocer: "I do not believe in giving everything away. I think there should be restrictions as to freight. I favor package freight."

Mr. Parker's Letter.

Will Janesville have a new interurban railway and in conjunction with a new street railway? That is a question to be decided Monday night by the council. There are kickers standing around telling how dead Janesville is and blaming everybody for this condition but themselves. Now we have an opportunity to really do something for the city, or rather to permit something to be done for it. What is the result? These same kickers are doing all they can to defeat the granting of a franchise to Mr. Clough and his associates, simply because they are afraid Mr. Clough and his associates may make some money out of the deal. I know nothing about the cost of railways, but I do know that the man or corporation who has the nerve and ability to invest such sums as are necessary to build and equip railways deserve something for it. As president of the Advancement Association, I have had perhaps unusual facilities for hearing what outside people have to say about us in our endeavor to get new industries located here. If we can get the new interurban railway in my judgment it is worth as much if not more to the city at large than the location of a new factory here employing 200 men. Can it be possible that the business and property interests will permit their representatives (the council) to refuse a liberal franchise properly drawn? If so I am prepared to say amen to some of the statements I have heard about Janesville that I have heretofore regarded as slanders. It's time to quit playing "Nancy" and get down to business and help rather than retard the growth of Janesville. I want to say in closing that this is not written at the request of Mr. Clough or any of his associates nor do they have any knowledge of its being written until it appears herewith. Let us have the new interurban.

GEO. S. PARKER.

THREATENED STRIKE ON THE INTERURBAN

Not Likely to Be Realized—Lack of Unanimity Among Employees in the Union Movement.

Motor men and conductors of the interurban line, together with employees of the Rockford street railway, have been attempting this week to organize a branch of the Amalgamated Street Railway Employees of America society, the immediate object being to ask for an increase of the wage scale one cent per hour for all classes, commencing Oct. 1 and to continue until Oct. 1, 1908. Most of the older men long ago signed a scale which does not expire until June 1, 1907, and some of the oldest and ablest employees have refused to take any part in the new movement. J. Blum of Chicago, state organizer for the union, arrived in Rockford recently and secured employment as a conductor. At seven o'clock Tuesday evening the company gave him his time, having no further use for a professional organizer in the role of an employee. Earlier in the week a strike seemed imminent, but it is now believed that matters will be adjusted to the satisfaction of the majority of the men, even though the company refuses to recognize any union.

JANESVILLE GOLFERS BEATEN AT ROCKFORD

By the Score of 40 to 3—Al Schaller and Dr. F. B. Farnsworth Were the Only Local Winners.

Pitted against the twelve best golfers of Rockford's club, the Janesville team, greatly weakened by the absence of several players who found it impossible to take the trip and participate in the tourney yesterday, met with disastrous defeat, the final score being 40 to 3. The return game will be played here on Tuesday, Sept. 25, and an effort will be made to redeem in a measure yesterday's showing. One of the locals confessed that the arrangement committee had him "15 down" before the contest commenced. There was some misunderstanding about the time when the Bower City delegation was to arrive and there was no one to greet the visitors when they reached the station on the 10 o'clock car. It thus happened that Mark Bostwick, who arrived alone, on the 11 o'clock interurban was met by six large touring cars and being unable to ride in more than one of them at a time, was escorted by the balance with no little pomp and solemnity to the scene of the day's festivities, later on Mr. Ingersoll defeated him eight up. The warmth of the welcome, at the links and the open-hearted hospitality dispensed made defeat a mere incident and a most delightful time was enjoyed by every visitor. Al Schaller and Dr. F. B. Farnsworth were the only Janesville men who won their matches. The "costume tourney" and Harvest Home plan for the return game was received with favor by the Forest City club members and preparations will begin immediately for a rousing reception for them when they come here a week from Tuesday.

HIGH WATER MARK IN BUSINESS WORLD

TRADE INCREASES AT UNPRECEDENTED RATE.

PRICES REMAIN STRONG

Expectation of Lower Quotations for Staples in Response to Cheaper Raw Material Proves to Be Unwarranted.

New York, Sept. 15.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Volume of trade continues beyond precedent for the period, the end of the vacation season restoring normal forces in most occupations, and there are no important labor struggles to handicap progress. Autumn distribution is very heavy, traders as a rule preparing for needs well into the future, while mercantile collections are quite as prompt as could be expected in view of the tight money market. There is some uncertainty in primary markets for cotton goods, owing to the expectation of lower prices in response to cheaper raw material, but as yet no concessions are offered. Demand for woolen fabrics is also somewhat irregular, although fancy worsteds are withdrawn because of the well sold condition, and other leading industries report great activity and strength.

Prices of commodities rose during August in the aggregate, dairy and garden products supplying most of the advance. Dun's Index number on September 1 being 104.287, against 102.885 a month previous. Compared with the position a year ago the advance is four per cent. Railway earnings for the first week of September exceeded the figures of 1905 by 7.8 per cent.

Textile fabrics continue in the position of uncertainty that has prevailed for some weeks.

Footwear manufacturers in New England report a healthy tone in spring business, western wholesalers buying freely and large retailers who buy direct are operating extensively for next season's styles.

Commercial failures this week in the United States are 174, against 133 last week, 170 the preceding week and 194 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 25, against

Last week, and 14 the preceding week.

Bradstreet's Report.
Bradstreet's report says in part: Trade, crop and industrial reports are still almost uniformly favorable. An immense business is doing in the west and northwest, southern jobbing trade shows expansion and inability to get adequate supplies of many lines of goods is the main subject of complaint at eastern markets. September, like August, appears to be scoring heavy gains over the corresponding month a year ago. Official crop reports confirm previous public and private advices, of very large, if not record yields, but price and traffic conditions are a bar to free movement. Car shortages are no longer subjects of speculation, but are an accomplished fact, and terminal facilities are also unequal to the strain.

Thinking Stage

September might well be termed the "time of thinking." It is the month when people are looking around, sizing up things, turning over in their minds this, that, and the other things that they have seen in the stores—a time of posting, comparing, planning.

Conditions do not change much, it is the same year after year. We expect it. We are only too glad to have the opportunity to show the new goods. One can not come too often to suit us, as we are receiving something new every day the year around.

EMPHASIZING DIFFERENT LINES.

This week we are calling particular attention to RUGS and CARPETS, and would say that it will be time well spent to call and get ideas from our window displays, and then visit our carpet department, where the largest stock of floor coverings for many miles can be seen in all its greatness.

Come, look around, ask questions.

Next week it's Blankets.

Letter From Leading Author

Fred Wade Wolf, whose new and intensely interesting book "Battles of Life," is attracting such wide attention from press and public, has recently recovered from a severe attack of muscular rheumatism and tells a remarkable story of his experience.

"It was while travelling," said Mr. Wolf, "that I was stricken with a very severe case of muscular rheumatism which so disabled me that I found it difficult to hobble about the hotel where I was stopping."

"The strain of constant travel had proved too much for me and my nervous system became badly deranged. My hands began to stiffen and every joint in my body was sore."

"Doctors could not relieve me and I was about to despair and go to a hospital when a friend advised me to try Cooper's New Discovery and Quick Relief. I did so and from the very first I began to improve. Every unfavorable symptom had disappeared in a very short time. I am now well and actively engaged in my profession and these wonderful remedies did it. They have been worth a thousand dollars to me for I certainly would not take that sum for the benefit I received."

"Cooper's New Discovery is the medicine that has been causing such a tumult during the past year wherever introduced by E. T. Cooper, the young philanthropist. Cooper's Quick Relief is the remarkable liniment sold by Mr. Cooper in connection with the New Discovery."

"The Cooper preparations are sold in this city by E. B. Helmstreet who secured the agency for them some time ago. They are more talked of today than any proprietary remedies ever introduced in the United States."
